TAKE MUMMY OUT FOR A ROMANTIC ADVENTURE
ON THE WATER THIS MOTHER'S DAY 2018

SINGAPORE, 12th April 2018

When mummy is bored with restaurants every year, it's time to jazz up her day with an escape into the horizon.

Singapore's only luxury tall ship Royal Albatross is ready to set sail with mothers this Mother's Day 2018. With two sails, one in the afternoon and one at night, both sails come with an array of delicious bites, well-stocked bars and live entertainment to keep all seafarers happy.

Mother's Day in Singapore is around the corner yet again, so it's time to break out the roses, wine and restaurant reservations. But for those looking for something a little fresher and with more pizzazz, the Royal Albatross is set to take dearest mummy out on a bit of adventure off the shores of Singapore.

Set sail on this exclusive yacht that appeared in the 'Dark Knight' and gaze into the horizon movie-style as the sea breeze sweeps away mummy's cares and worries. This Mother's Day 2018, the 22-sail tall ship curated a special treat for mummies all around, all set against the panoramic backdrop of Singapore's southern coast and city skyline. With the ship conveniently berthed at Resorts World Sentosa, this mini-adventure is an easy escape for mummy and her loved ones, and without needing to break the bank.

Dine high-tea style in the high seas during the afternoon sail with the sparkling waters as your photo backdrop. Or perhaps if the night vista is more mummy's delight of choice, sojourn with the crew for the 3-course dinner sail. Drinks are readily available, and we invite mummy and her family to come aboard for a sip while our onboard musicians serenade her into bliss. Meanwhile, as the ship disembarks on its sail around the coast, take mummy on a romantic exploration of the world below deck. Our Grand Salon is bedecked with plush couches and luxurious carpeting that will pamper every one of her senses.

The Royal Albatross is one of less than 100 working tall ships left in the world and one of five that has been refurbished to luxurious standards. We guarantee a unique experience nowhere else found in Singapore that will make mummy feel like she's truly on top of the world this Mother's Day 2018.

To that end, it's time to make your booking with the Royal Albatross this year to give the extraordinary women in your life a reward for all her months of unwavering care and dedication.
